Filter Google and Outlook tasks Synchronize folders or categories of tasks Sync Google to Outlook, Outlook to Google Delete all sheets in Outlook Delete all the tasks in Google Dictate Outlook to Google and Google to Outlook sync Delete synchronization history and sheets in Outlook Verdict: On the downside, you cannot do a manual sync. Additionally, you can sync only two options, Google to Outlook and Outlook to Google. If you do not mind any of the limitations of GogTasks, then you can consider it as an easy way to access the tasks from both Google and Outlook. Screenshots: Publisher Description: GogTasks allows you to: - Sync Google and Outlook tasks and folders. - Sync multiple Google and Outlook folders at the same time. - Delete all tasks from Outlook at once. - Delete all tasks from Google at once. - Delete synchronization history and sheets in Outlook. GogTasks is a simple task organizer. It gives you the option to sync multiple Google and Outlook folders at the same time, and sync them separately. For example, if you want to sync contacts and tasks in Outlook and Tasks and calendar in Gmail, you can do that separately. Also, it allows you to sync just a specific folder of Google or Outlook (using filters). If you sync just one folder, it will sync that folder. If you sync multiple folders, it will sync them all, so you can keep them separated. This is a great app, but you do have to use two different apps and go to 2 sites. I have really gotten into using a calendar, and I don't want to have to switch between google and outlook and keep them both up to date. It would be great to be able to sync between both at the same time! I wish this could be an option for people. I feel like it would be useful. The people at Googles support forum have said they cannot implement this. But if you have a mind that is somehow different than normal they should consider it. If they do and it works, let me know and I will donate. 8.0 out of 10 November 2, 2013 ezyra , Canada
